My relationship to industrial area issues
Mon lien avec les sujets autour des zones industrielles

Since 2016 Mrs. v. Stieglitz is working in the global program on private sector adaptation to climate change (PSACC), which is funded by BMZ. The focus of this programme lies in divers activities how the private sector, mainly SMEs, can adapt to climate change. She is responsible for the component in Morocco, where the project is focussing on industrial Zones. Within this component she has been involved in the conception and development of an adaptation plan and an adaptation strategy for an industrial zone in Agadir/Morocco. The main areas of intervention were: a) awareness raising activities b) preparing the content and scheduling trainings for industrial zone managers and consultants c) climate risk assessments for enterprises and the industrial zone in Alt Melloul d) establishing adaptation strategies for companies and the industrial zone.

A guide for Industrial Zones was developed as result based on all practical experiences and activities in Industrial Zones. This Guide shows the methodology of the Climate Expert approach in IZ and will support and strengthen industrial zone managers and other stakeholders in various countries throughout the processes linked to the sustainable planning and management of industrial areas and special economic zones related to impacts of climate change.

Within the Globale Programme from 2014 – 2016 the team has finalized the Tool Climate Expert based on the experiences of practical adaptation approach for the private sector.

From 2007 – 2008 She has been working as Resident Twinning Advisor in Cairo/Egypt on behalf of the German Federal Ministry of Economics and Technology (BMWi) within an EU-financed project at the Ministry for Investment and the General Authority for Investment and Freezones (GAFI)in , advising on economic promotion, capacity building, on organisational development and on sustainable industrial areas.

My relationship to sustainability topics

Mon lien avec les sujets autour la durabilité

I have started my own business more than 15 years ago and I have been working in different projects on regional outreach focussing on sustainable topics as tourism and regional sustainable economic development and business development.

As business consultant for more than 5 years I was responsible for the Controlling and business development of a Start Up Company in the field of renewable energy/ Solar laboratory. Within GIZ I am now working in the field of climate change adaptation for the private sector. The focus of this project also lies on how adaptation measures (green, grey, soft) can be implemented and financed with regard to sustainability.

2012 I had an assignment as freelance consultant for GIZ and I elaborated a study on "Elektromobility and its potential for international cooperation in developing countries".

In 2012 I gained a certification as Quality Manager and internal Auditor. Throughout all my participation in projects of different sectors I always kept in mind to implement environmental and social aspects within investments and business strategies.
